Having bags of ready-prepared veg in the freezer such as these roast potatoes, potato croquettes or Brussels sprouts can be a life saver if you get a bigger crowd for Sunday lunch than planned. Pop them in the oven for added trimmings and sides; they go well with any seasonal roast lunch and are definite crowd-pleasers!
A perfect cheese platter

Regardless of whether you have a small café or large restaurant, having a cheese board of a selection of Irish cheeses is a masterful way of adding an additional course to your menu and some festive ambience to your venue as everyone loves to tuck into a platter of cheese at Christmas!
Cheese & Wine

It's always the right time for a cheese plate, but with the entertaining season close, we've got fromage even more on our minds than usual and nothing goes better with a cheese – except maybe a cheeky cracker – than a drop of wine! Armed with the right information, you can create amazing wine and cheese pairings on your own. Here are our top five tips to help you:

Tip #1: Pair wines and cheeses with equal intensity.

Tip #2: Bold red wines pair best with aged cheeses.

Tip #3: Match super funky cheeses with sweeter wines.

Tip #4: Sparkling wines are incredible with soft, creamy cheeses.

Tip #5: Wines and cheeses from the same place pair well together.

Food Trend
One trend for coffee drinkers that seems here to stay is the addition of flavoured syrups in coffee. Try offering hazelnut lattés or vanilla americanos to your customers; the syrups add a little sweetness to the bitter coffee for a combined rich flavour.

Sometimes a little is just enough and our range of petit fours, mince pies and seasonal desserts is a great way to offer a lot, in a small treat. Perfect with a coffee after a satisfying Christmas dinner.

LET IT SNOW!
Here’s our recipe for the perfect mince pies...

1. Pick from our range of seasonal mince pies below, whether it’s minis, luxury crowns, or classic shortcrust, there are lots of options.
2. Heat up and serve with cream, or brandy cream (for adults only)!
3. Sprinkle with icing sugar. This is important as it will cover the brown pastry and nothing adds a touch of Christmas, then some white flakes!
4. Serve with freshly brewed tea or coffee & one of our reindeer napkins, see page 30.

TOP TIP
Whether you go down the route of table settings at Christmas or not, adding some candles is the simplest and unintrusive way to create some festive atmosphere in your dining area. Larger candles work well in window sills or counter tops, small tea lights are amplified in tiny glasses or among seasonal centrepieces. Try it out!
